About

My immersion to Art began at a very young age when I was scribbling art on paper. I quickly moved on to drawing and learning different techniques of drawing. I then moved on to working with graphics and my experiences at the University came handy when I embraced Digital Art. I was immediately attracted to creating eye catching web interfaces and graphics. I realized the power of communicating through art. The greatest thing I love about Digital Art is that it can bind influences from many mediums and present it in a digital format.
